

Table of Contents

Acknowledgements

Overview

Part One: The Task Force Report

Achieving a networked community for homeland security	1
Assessment of government progress toward a trusted, decentralized network	2
Information sharing and analysis	2
Utilizing privately held data.....	5
Building a networked community for homeland security	8
Vision and objectives	8
Exhibit A: Action plan for federal government development of the SHARE network	9
Closing the gaps between agencies	11
Scenario-based concept of operations.....	13
Designing a robust architecture for the future	13
Exhibit B: Weaknesses in the current information-sharing system	14
Exhibit C: Authentication technology	15
Exhibit D: Attributes of the SHARE network	17
Participants in the network: organizational structure	18
The federal participants	18
Exhibit E: Joint Terrorism Task Forces (JTTFs)	20
Decentralized analytic nodes	21
The road to a culture of distribution	22
Measuring performance	24
Exhibit F: Evaluating improvements in information sharing and analysis	25
Accessing private sector data	30
Information available in the private sector	30
Identifying the private sector information the government needs	31
Guidelines for government use of private sector information.....	32
Acquisition and use of private sector data.....	33
Government retention of private sector data.....	34
Sharing private sector data with agencies not involved in counterterrorism	35
Accountability and oversight	35
Exhibit G: Evaluating improvements in the government's use of private sector data while protecting civil liberties	37
Future work of the Task Force	39
Conclusion	39
Additional Papers	40